LETTER FROM COMMERCE '17 MAN OVERSEAS

Gunner Gordon McLellan with Artillery in France.

MEETS MANY MCGILL MEN.

He Points Out Some Disadvantages of Life in a Dug-out.

The following letter has been received from Gordon McLellan, Commerce '17, who is now in France with the Siege Artillery. McLellan enlisted last April in the McGill Reinforcing Draft under Capt. Sir Stopford Brunton, but was later transferred to another unit.

France, Jan. 18, 1918.

Dear —, Received your very interesting letter a couple of days ago, and it sure was good to hear about the happenings at McGill. I have received nearly all the Dailies of last year, and they are always looked forward to. The Daily has not lost any of its pep, and this is no doubt due to the number of Arts '19 men on the Editorial Staff.

At present I'm having one of the best times of my life. This place has got Witely beat a mile. There is none of the funny stuff pulled here, such as reveille at 5.30 a.m., P.T., before breakfast, etc.

Last New Year's Day I saw a lot of High and Arts '19 men, also Capt. MacMillan, and Quarter-master Christie, of High School. The Arts '19 men were Overing, Richardson, and Dummy Taylor, who was in Arts '18. I also saw Jeff Brown, Les Milten and Johnstone Abraham, all of whom you know. They were all O.K. About six weeks ago I saw Sid Hodgson, '19, and Jack Farthing. Last summer I saw Charlie Johnstone, Arts '19, at Hythe (near Folkestone). He was going to France the next day.

We have been having pretty good weather for the last couple of weeks, but last Monday it started to rain, and it has rained nearly all week. I was living in an old cellar, but woke up one morning and found about 18 inches of water in it. So I had to come back to the billet, and believe me, I don't like living in a billet. A dug-out for me every time. In a dug-out you are your own boss, and can follow little ideas of your own, but in a billet there is a certain amount of discipline.

This is about all the news I can collect this time. I'm so busy answering letters, that letter writing has become a bore, but I can't expect to receive any if I don't write, so I keep on. I think that I'll get a copying machine, that ought to solve the problem quite easily.

My address over here is, Gr. A. G. McLellan, 2341421, Canadian Corps, Heavy Artillery, Reinforcement Band, B.E.F., France.

Please remember me to all the fellows around College.

Your VI B side kick,
A. G. McLELLAN.

SCI. SENIORS WILL DO RESEARCH WORK

D. G. Dunbar, Geo. Wallace, and E. Bieler Will Work for British Government.

Three of the members of Science '18, in Electrical Engineering, D. G. Dunbar, Geo. Wallace and E. Bieler, are leaving shortly for England to engage in research work for the British Government under Dr. A. S. Eve, formerly professor of Physics here. Dr. Eve went overseas as major in the 148th Battalion, but was transferred to the War Office staff upon his arrival in England.

E. Bieler is a graduate of Arts '15, with honours in Mathematics and Physics. He enlisted under Capt. Barclay, and proceeded to England, and later to France with the P. P. C. L. I. "Chin" soon rose from the ranks, and qualified for a commission, being attached to the artillery. He has been twice wounded. On his return to McGill this fall Bieler took up work under Dr. King as well as registering as an undergraduate in 4th year Electrical Engineering.

D. G. Dunbar is the vice-president of the Union, and Geo. Wallace, who also accompanies him, is president of the Electrical Club, as well as being secretary of the Science Undergraduate Society.

ROOTERS' CLUB WILL HOLD PRACTICE TO-DAY

Final Practice Before Game Tomorrow — Smoker to be Held After Game.

A final practice of the Rooters' Club will be held this afternoon in the Union, at 5 o'clock, and it is urgently requested that as many students as possible can, will attend.

Each and every student in the University with any red blood in his veins, cannot but appreciate the splendid fight the McGill hockey team has made, and is making in the City League, and the efforts they are putting forth to win the championship, and thus bring fresh laurels to old McGill. Surely it is up to the student body to support the hockey team, and to show them that their efforts are appreciated, and the best way to do this is to be at the game on Thursday as a member of the Rooters' Club, and encourage them to greater efforts by your presence, and your cheering. Get in line, fellows; come to the Union this afternoon at 5 o'clock, and help make the Rooters' Club the success it should be.

The Students' Council has completed all arrangements for the smoker to be held after the game, and at which the Laval players will be our guests. An excellent programme has been arranged for, and will be under the able leadership of the Glee Club, and an abundance of smokes and eats will be supplied, and every one is assured of a splendid time.

Tickets will be on sale at the Secretary's office, McGill Union, to-day, and each class president will have them for sale on Thursday. Be sure and get your tickets, for only members of the Rooters' Club will be permitted to attend the smoker after the game. In buying your rink ticket be sure and ask for your smoker ticket, too, for without that you will not be permitted to attend the latter function.

Medicine, Arts, Science and Law students make arrangements to be on hand for the Rooters' Club practice this afternoon at 5 p.m. Help us make the club more of a success than even that of last year, and so bring the City League Championship to old McGill.

FACULTY OF EDUCATION WILL NOT BE TRANSFERRED.

Assurance has been received that Queen's University will not, after all, lose the Faculty of Education. It was reported some time ago that the Department of Education intended to remove the Faculty from Kingston, but word has been received that it will not be disturbed.

FINDS DISLOYALTY IN U. S. COLLEGES.

University and college alumni associations throughout the country were urged by the executive committee of the National Security League to inquire into the loyalty of the officers, professors and instructors of their respective institutions, who are suspected of being in sympathy with the nation's enemies, and to remove those found to be disloyal.

Dr. William H. Hobbs, of the University of Michigan, and Dr. Robert M. McElroy, head of the department of history and politics in Princeton University, gave specific instances of disloyalty among professors as proof that the action of the committee was necessary.

The committee appointed a sub-committee to answer the question of obtaining legislation for the more drastic punishment of men found guilty of espionage, and passed a resolution urging Congress to "co-ordinate the existing agencies of the government, having to do with spy activities."

LIVELY LETTER RECEIVED FROM PAST STUDENT

Interesting Sidelights on Military Life.

IN FRANCE AND ENGLAND.

Expresses His Horror at Devastation of Northern France and Belgium.

The following letter was received from the front by a McGill student: France, Dec. 15.

Dear Chas.—Your letter of Nov. 15th to hand. You mention R. C. Downing in your letter. Little did I know that Downing was a 'Varsity man, nor that he knew you. Poor fellow, he was a corporal with my own company, and was killed on the night of Oct. 26, at Kron Prinz Farm, near Passchendaele. A few of the boys were standing around behind a pill box when a shell lit close by and exploded. They all ducked and thought no more of it. But Downing didn't get up with the rest. A slug had hit him on the forehead and killed him outright. He was always a cheerful and very efficient man. Everyone liked him, and a shadow fell on the fellows when they heard he was killed. Downing used always to go out on patrol with me, and I never wanted a better fellow by my side.

So you are able to read the contour lines of my photo, are you? Well, I will admit that I saw the same disgust in the face myself before I sent them away, and hated to send them, because I felt it was hardly fair. Because I was disgusted that day, do not infer that I am always thus. Quite true, I too often find myself assuming a serious disgusted attitude. But it doesn't last long after I discover it. I feel much better since I had ten days in England. The morning I had that picture taken I never was more lonely in my life; in among millions of people, yet all strangers. To make it worse, my bones and muscles all ached from the effects of a slight attack of trench fever, which I had the week before, but did not say anything about. I found it much easier to be cheerful in France than in England.

What joy can a soldier have in looking at beautiful art and buildings, etc., when he has seen the most beautiful landscape and architecture torn and smashed from day to day before his own eyes in France.

I went into Edinburgh on Saturday night. Sunday morning, early, I took a lonely walk around many of the main streets, and looked from the cliff, etc., and then returned to a church. As the people came in they all had a squint at me, and recognized that I was a Canadian from France, by my colours. The lady in front turned around and shook hands with me, and said she was always with me, and said she was always with me.

GOVERNORS MEET; APPOINT SECRETARY

Sir Robert Borden is Chancellor; A. P. S. Glasco Secretary and Bursar.

A meeting of the Board of Governors of McGill University was held on Monday, when the Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Laird Borden, P.C., G.C.M.G., Prime Minister of the Dominion of Canada; Francis McLennan, B.C.L.; Edward W. Beatty, K.C.; Fred W. Molson, and Col. Robert Starke were appointed Governors of the University and members of the Royal Institution for the Advancement of Learning. After the election of these gentlemen to the Board, Sir Robert Borden was unanimously elected President of the Royal Institution and Chancellor of McGill University for a term of three years. Sir William Peterson informing the Board that Sir Robert Borden had consented to hold the offices for a limited period.

Mr. Archie P. S. Glasco, B.Sc., was appointed Secretary and Bursar in the place of Mr. W. Vaughan. Mr. Glasco is a graduate in Engineering of the class of 1901, and after practicing his profession for some years successfully, formed a partnership with other gentlemen in a contracting firm. He held a commission in the battalion recruited by Col. Ballantyne. Owing to the smallness of the numbers recruited for that battalion, he, with other officers, was prevented from going overseas.

MONTREAL, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1918.

THE ROOTERS' CLUB.

The final practice of the Rooters' Club before the McGill-Laval game to-morrow night will be held this afternoon at 5 p.m. At Monday's practice much enthusiasm was shown by those present, but the numbers were comparatively small. A very low percentage of the students turned out to boost this club. A number of men made the popular excuse of lack of time. Now to-morrow is a holiday as far as lectures are concerned, and hence every man should turn out at the Union for the final practice. The team has sacrificed much time in extra practices, etc., in order to be in the best trim for this game. It is as little as we can do to spend an hour this afternoon in preparation for the parade to-morrow night.

If you are going to take part in the parade to-morrow night, come down and enjoy yourself for an hour learning the old College songs. Everyone remembers the excellent programme which followed the parade last year, and those in charge hope to make it even better this year. Incidentally, only those who attend the parade will be admitted to the Smoker, so let everyone attend the final preparation this afternoon.

GETTING BY.

How often do we hear, to-day, this phrase — literally or in spirit! How often do we see it applied and banefully working its will in college as well as in life! One fellow approaches another and sympathetically they meet and happily talk of how "we got by." "No, I didn't do much, but I got by."

Let's see something of this proposition of "getting by." We all know what is meant by the expression. And it is not here used to mean that hard-working, earnest fellow who just passes, though he has laboured sincerely. But it applies to our college "leisure" class, who always "get by," but who could do a great deal better. It is understood that a man doesn't come to college to try by incessant, all-night study to burn out those eyes God has given him. He has come, however, for a purpose, and "getting by" is not fulfilling that purpose.

In the first place "getting by" is not a man's job. It can be seen to-day by the greatest number who merely pass that it is not a difficult thing to do. A fellow can use another's notes, buy his plates and experiments, and cram all night for an exam and "get by" with it. The rest of his time is spent in idling. Development of power of thinking, power of concentration, power of discrimination, power of judgment, beneficial results of a well-applied college course, is never accomplished; but a man's job is laid aside, and he "gets by," receives his diploma and passes to the outside world, satisfied with himself, perhaps, though his people and the rest of the world know that he has thrown away four valuable and irredeemable years of his life.

And, then, "getting by" does not prepare for a man's job. It has been said that college not only prepares for "life," but it is "life." If a fellow can stand up and do his part in college he can do it after he leaves. A man who is satisfied with "getting by" in college will be satisfied to just "get by" in the world. And just as he "gets by" in college he may get by all the way through and lay down his little inconsequential life at the end with entire satisfaction. But then there is the chance — and a big one it is to-day — that he will come to a place where there is a barred road, and a gleaming sign will flash before him — "Thou shalt not pass." Forces with the determination of Joffre's brilliant, valorous army shall challenge his advance. Only by vigorous assaults, whose vigor must have been gained by years of training, will the obstacle be removed. The man who "got by" will never "get by" here. "Thou shalt not pass" — it will flare out warningly. No "getting by" here — but fight, fight, fight — "Red and Black."

SCISSORED SENTIMENT.

YALE: The Yale varsity swimming and water polo teams are to-day holding first place in the swimming and water polo standings of the Intercollegiate Swimming League, following their victories over the teams of the College of the City of New York in the Yale pool, the Elms taking the swimming meet 42 to 11, and the water polo contest, 35 to 8.

ILLINOIS: The total number of students who registered yesterday was 2,189. Of this number 48 are graduate students and 2,091 are undergraduate students. A year ago to-day the total number registered was 3,131, of which 134 were graduate students and 3,027 were undergraduate students.

HARVARD: Prof. R. N. Corwin, chairman of the advisory committee on athletics at Yale University, received word from Dean L. B. R. Briggs, of Harvard, that the latter desires a conference between Harvard and Princeton and Yale, at which the entire athletic situation at these three universities shall be threshed out, and a final settlement as to formal varsity sports arrived at.

IOWA: Five minutes overtime were required for the State University of Iowa to defeat the University of Minnesota in their second Western Conference basketball game, by the score of 25 to 21.

PENNSYLVANIA: Track and field athletic activities at Pennsylvania State College will be crammed into a short but intensive programme this season. Beginning with the Meadowbrook Club games in Philadelphia the Penn State trackmen will participate in two or three indoor meets this month and next, closing the Pennsylvania relay carnival in April.

KING INCREASES

TOTAL TO FOURTEEN

Highest Individual Scorer in City League.

Wes. King, of the Shamrocks, assumed a most commanding lead in the individual scorers' list of the City League, by increasing his total to 14. This gives him a clear lead of four goals over Laurendeau, who held second place safe by adding one to his total. Lonergan, Behan and Slater all added a single tally, so that the standing remains unchanged from last week. The work of King has been most sensational this season, and it is doubtful if the League will ever see a more consistent stick-handler. Behan, who led the league last year, has been unfortunate in front of the nets this year, being far behind his total for last season. Both McGill and Loyola have five men in the two or more class.

Following is the list of scorers of two or more goals to date:

King.....Shamrocks	14
Laurendeau.....Laval	10
Lonergan.....Loyola	9

"FASHIONABLES" FINED.

At a "frugality dance" in fashionable Montclair, N.J., recently, those wearing patent leather shoes, silk stockings, or high collars were fined five cents each for each offense, those wearing marcel waves ten cents, while wearers of evening dress, or "costumes," had to pay twenty-five cents to the management. That a very considerable amount was raised for a war-relief purpose in this way seems to have concealed from many the irony in the affair. Fashionable people, in certain circumstances, will pay an extravagant price to forward the cause of frugality.

The Royal Military College of Canada.

There are few national institutions of more value and interest to the country than the Royal Military College of Canada. Notwithstanding this its object and the work it is accomplishing are not sufficiently understood by the general public.

The College is a Government Institution, designed primarily for the purpose of giving instructions in all branches of military science to the sons of Officers of the Canadian Militia. In fact, it corresponds to Woolwich and Sandhurst in England.

The Commandant and military instructors are all officers on the active list of the Imperial army, sent for the purpose, and there is in addition a complete staff of professors for the civil subjects which form such an important part of the College course. Medical attendance is also provided.

While the college is organized on a strictly military basis the cadets receive a practical and scientific training in subjects essential to a sound modern education.

The course includes a thorough grounding in Mathematics, Civil Engineering, Surveying, Physics, Chemistry, French and English.

The strict discipline maintained at the College is one of the most valuable features of the course, and in addition, the constant practice of gymnastics, drills and outdoor exercises of all kinds, ensures health and excellent physical condition.

Commissions in all branches of the Imperial service and Canadian Permanent Force are offered annually. The diploma of graduation is considered by the authorities conducting the examination for Dominion Land Surveyor to be equivalent to a university degree, and by the Regulations of the Law Society of Ontario to obtain the same exemptions as a B.A. degree.

The length of the course is three years in three terms of 9½ months each.

The total cost of the course, including board, uniform, instruction, material, and all extras is about $900. The annual competitive examination for admission to the College, takes place in June of each year, at the headquarters of the several military districts.

For full particulars regarding this examination and for any other information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Militia Council, Ottawa, Ont., or to the Commandant, Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC. DEPARTMENT OF COLONIZATION, MINES AND FISHERIES. The chief minerals of the Province of Quebec are Asbestos, Chromite, Copper, Iron, Gold, Molybdenite, Phosphate, Mica, Graphite, Ornamental and Building Stone, Clays, Etc.

The Mining Law gives absolute security of Title and is very favourable to the Prospector.

MINERS' CERTIFICATES.

First of all, obtain a miner's certificate, from the Department in Quebec, or from the nearest agent. The price of this certificate is $10.00, and it is valid until the first of January following. This certificate gives the right to prospect on public lands and on private lands, on which the mineral rights belong to the Crown.

The holder of this certificate may stake mining claims to the extent of 300 acres.

WORKING CONDITIONS.

During the first six months following the staking of the claim, work on it must be performed to the extent of at least twenty-five days of eight hours.

SIX MONTHS AFTER STAKING.

At the expiration of six months from the date of the staking, the prospector, to retain his rights, must take out a mining license.

MINING LICENSE.

The mining license may cover 40 to 200 acres in unsurveyed territory. The price of this license is Fifty Cents an acre per year, and a fee of $10.00 on issue. It is valid for one year, and is renewable on the same terms, on producing an affidavit that during the year work has been performed to the extent of at least twenty-five days' labor on each forty acres.

MINING CONCESSION.

Notwithstanding the above, a mining concession may be acquired at any time at the rate of $5.00 an acre for SUPERIOR METALS, and $3.00 an acre for INFERIOR MINERALS.

The attention of prospectors is specially called to the territory in the North-Western part of the Province of Quebec, north of the height of land where important mineralized belts are known to exist.

PROVINCIAL LABORATORY.

Special arrangements have been made with the POLYTECHNIC SCHOOL of LAVAL UNIVERSITY, 223 ST. DENIS STREET, MONTREAL, for the analysis of minerals at very reduced rates for the benefit of miners and prospectors in the Province of Quebec. The well equipped laboratories of this institution and its trained chemists ensure results of undoubted integrity and reliability.

The Bureau of Mines at Quebec will give all the information desired in connection with the mines and mineral resources of the Province, on application addressed to

THE WEEK AT QUEEN'S.

In Levana Basketball, Faculty of Education won the championship, by defeating the Sophomores, 14-12. The game was one of the best in recent years. The proceeds were donated to the Red Cross.

Faculty lost the first game of the hockey schedule to the Juniors, 3-1.

Senior O. H. A. team lost to Dents, in Toronto, on Saturday, by 14-2.

In the Debating Finals, the Freshettes won the Levana Cup by defeating the Seniors. The subject was, "Resolved, that Canada should own and operate all railroads within her borders, in the next ten years." Affirmative, '18.

The Sophomores won the Alma Mater Debating Trophy by defeating the Juniors on Saturday night. The Juniors had chosen the affirmative of the subject: "Resolved, that a Beer and Wine License is more preferable in Canada than total prohibition."

The Science Dance held their annual At Home on Friday in the gymnasium. The affair was the most successful function since Grant Hall days, and especially notable for its student attendance.

One graduate of the University, Miss Helen MacDonald, through a chapter of her own organization (of the I.O.D.E.), sent a shipment valued at $300.00 to the Queen's Red Cross. The donation was noteworthy as coming from a U. S. centre — Utica, New York.

Dr. O. D. Skelton, one of Canada's foremost economists, in addressing the Engineering Society, saw the solution of the railway problem, not in government ownership, but in private ownership of 60 per cent. of the railway stock, and co-operation in administration.

Flight-Lieut. F. Robinson, Med. '20, notched his seventh plane.

Rev. C. J. L. Bates, B.A. '01, Pres. Theological College, Kobe, Japan, addressed the Convocation congregation on Sunday.

An announcement on Friday night stated that the Faculty of Education will not be transferred to Hamilton, but will remain at Queen's.

GEO. ADAM SPOKE AT RITZ-CARLTON

Harry Lauder's Trip to the Front Described Before McGill Women's Union.

Last night, at the Ritz-Carlton, Mr. George Adam gave a charming address entitled "With Harry Lauder at the Front," the proceeds of which are to go to the funds in aid of the war work of the McGill Women's Union. Principal Peterson introduced the speaker to a hall which was well filled, in spite of the stormy weather.

Mr. Adam said that he had gone himself to ask Harry Lauder to go to sing to the soldiers at the front. He remembered many anecdotes told of Harry's economical spirit, and had very little hopes of persuading him to give up a profitable engagement for the discomforts and dangers of a tour of the front lines, and it was with great joy that he heard Harry consent to go at once. Everything from tracts to two tons of insect powder was offered them to take to the soldiers, but, with the exception of a portable piano and cigarettes, which Harry bought himself, everything was refused with thanks.

Mr. Hogg, the member of Parliament from Edinburgh, accompanied them, and a returned soldier came as pianist. The troupe travelled under the name of "The Rev. Harry Lauder, M.P." Mr. Hogg made speeches on soldiers' pensions, Harry sang, and Mr. Adam told jokes about them both.

They visited Vimy Ridge and other well-known places, besides many small spots, where there were soldiers stationed. Harry always sang to great crowds, and often within reach of the enemy's shells and aeroplanes, which were dropping bombs. In one of the places which had been occupied by Germans, the troupe spent the night at the hotel where Von Kluck and his officers had been stationed. Mr. Adam and Harry Lauder sleeping together in Von Kluck's room because each refused to give it up to the other. In the morning they had considerable difficulty in making the landlady understand that they wanted hot water for shaving. Harry went through the actions supposed to convey the light to her benighted mind, and pronounced "Aqua" quite distinctly several times, but when she reappeared with a bottle of whiskey the attempt was given up.

Harry was tireless in his activities, going from place to place. One of the most sacred spots he visited was his son's grave, above which he declared that he would not wish his son alive again, but to thank him that he had served his God and country so well. Harry's influence among the soldiers was strong and good; he cheered them, encouraged them, and gave them spirit to fight on. His songs have become almost hymns to them.

At the close of the address Mr. Skerrer sang "The Wee Hoose Among the Heather," and several other songs of Harry Lauder. Principal Peterson then thanked Mr. Adam in the name of the McGill Women's Union for the most delightful address which he had given.

THOUGHTS ON HOCKEY.

It seems to us, though it may be only the prevailing spirit of criticism that is affecting us, that on Monday night Loyola was the team that deserved to win. They played a cleaner game, and their team-work was in marked contrast to the poor work of ours. We do not wish to run down the McGill team; in fact, we think they have done wonders with the astonishing lack of backing they have received this year, but there were times on Monday night when we were not very proud of its achievements, and there cannot be whole-hearted support when we feel a little ashamed of the way the team is playing. The fault at the bottom of this may be ours, but surely the team has something to do with it. A team which has been well supported all year will put more heart into the game, and will also try harder to play a game which will make its college proud of it than a team which has received little or no support. It is rather late in the day to say "Root," but it is never too late to mend, and if we cannot profit much this year, let us learn by experience, and do our rooting early and continuously next year.

GLEE CLUB PRACTICE.

The Glee Club held one of the best practices that it has ever held, in the Union last night. Although the turn-out was poor, it seemed that the men were singing better than usual, and the sounds which rose to the roof and were then reflected downwards, attracted the men in the billiard room. The club tried out a new song, a College medley, which is composed of parts from many of the old songs. The song seems to have a sort of a swing to it, for it was sung in toto from the very first attempt. It is composed of parts and parodies from "My Bonnie," "Old Kentucky Home," "Jingle Bells," "Good Night, Ladies," and "Merrily We Roll Along." Among other songs which were sung were "Good Night, Beloved," and "A Dvum."

The practice broke up shortly before ten o'clock. The next practice of the Glee Club will be held a week from to-night at the same time.

Special Announcement For February Fur Selling

We still have $300,000 worth of Furs in stock that were made to sell this season—and we are going to sell them.

Notwithstanding the enormous advances in raw skins which the St. Louis and New York Fur Sales show — advances which run from a minimum of 10% to a maximum of 100% — it is our intention to adhere to our usual policy of selling all manufactured furs during the present season—rather than to carry them over and sell at higher prices next season. This means $300,000 worth of Furs at cost price.

The unusual amount of our stock assures splendid assortments from which to choose — and the Fairweather guarantee applies to style as well as quality.

Good "Jour" Tailors in a retail shop

Have taken a first-class certificate, but they only obtain their Bachelor of Arts degree when they become specialists.

A "Specialist" is a man who has studied and practised until he becomes perfect in his specialty. The Semi-ready Tailoring system develops a journeyman tailor into a specialized expert.

One Lawyer may specialize on corporation law, another upon criminal law, and a third upon constitutional law. There are thirty "specialists" who contribute their skill to the making of one Semi-ready coat, and each man "does his bit," or has his particular work in the making.
